Dear SGMP members,

The state of Louisiana offers an abundance of opportunities for tourists and for those of us who live and work here. The opportunity to experience the rich culture and beautiful environment is what makes this state the perfect destination for any trip, event or meeting.

Each year, government meeting planners and their suppliers spend millions of dollars on travel and training for Louisiana's government agencies. The Society of Government Meeting Professionals helps facilitate this process and continues to find the most cost-effective methods of doing business.

Thank you for promoting Louisiana by planning events and meetings in this wonderful state.

From the many festivals and fairs to the remarkable fishing and camping venues, there is always something new to experience in Louisiana. To find out more about all the amazing opportunities this state offers, visit LouisianaTravel.com.

Sincerely,
